A place for a note from a Camp friend!

‘Oh, no !!!!how can it be???’ These are the calls across camp as the day comes upon us when each of us travels on into those “off season” months. But it is time! Walking to the pond, I spot the first bright red maple leaves of the fall. A few monarch butterflies crossed the main yard the other day—readying themselves for the long migration ahead. Breakfasts become more interesting as Theory sets out various platters of a variety of remaining treats. You remember.

Some of us have been here for ten weeks! We felt chilly spring water at the pond in lifeguarding class. We enthusiastically welcomed the horses, and Natalie and many birds. We painted and polished and readied camp for first session!

Some of us have been here for all eight camper weeks! The lucky ones! We remember the daily weather reports from Zoey and Ruby, complete with various physical demonstrations of how each day would feel! We remember the fireworks over the pond and the sticky faces we enjoyed at pie-eating. We will remember the hilarious first-session play with amazing performances by our friends!

Some of us have been here for the first five weeks and were joined by the two weekers! Remember the talent show? Can you remember the STAF reading of a Shakespeare play that will never sound like any Shakespeare play you have ever heard! If that has slipped from your mind do you remember the amazing NO STRINGS marionette show? Or the chance to help Stephen at the Dutchess Farm harvest food?

It was an amazing session!

Some of us were lucky enough to be here for third session! You will remember the Popsicle Race and whether you walked, ran or swam your way into our community’s vote to Help the ACLU and 4Ocean with their work to help people and our planet succeed. You’ll remember dancing your way through Zodiac and the sparkle of the Disco Social. And you’ll likely remember the tears you’ll shed at candlelighting as we prepare to leave.

Regardless of how much time you spent in our magic corner of Vermont over the summer of 2026, you are leaving inspired by the skills you’ve learned and the friendships you have made that will last a life time.

For me....one 2026 memory is the delight I had in welcoming back visitor after visitor after visitor—people across the camp community, busy in their lives, but remembering that at camp? They learned the most important skills of their lives in between all the fun and frivolity!

See you in 2027!
